

Office of the Information Commissioner
Queensland

Protecting your right to information and privacy

Home | Contact us | Media centre

Guidelines Decisions Annotated legislation Publications Training and events Information for About

Training and events

- ▶ International Access to Information Day
- ▼ Privacy Awareness Week
  - ▶ PAW2020 launch
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2019
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2018
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2017
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2016
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2015
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2014
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2013
  - ▶ Privacy Awareness Week 2012
- ▶ Dealing with personal information in an emergency
- ▶ 10-Year Anniversary of RTI and IP

Home > Training and events > Privacy Awareness Week > 2017 Privacy Quiz

2017 Privacy Quiz

Results

Mostly 'C's.

Well done. We would have you on our trivia team in a heart beat. To ensure you stay up to date with the latest news and information on privacy, you might like to follow our Twitter feed @qld_oic.

Alternatively, you can access our privacy guidelines if you need any assistance in applying the privacy principles.

This material is designed to promote general privacy awareness in the Queensland community as part of Privacy Awareness Week 2017.

The Quiz is not a formal tool for individuals concerned about the level of protection of their own personal information in social, work, government or other contexts. Any resemblance in the survey to a person, living or dead is purely coincidental.

For further information about privacy protection in Queensland, including the requirements set out in the Information Privacy Act 2009, see the privacy principles information sheets for the general public and privacy principles guidelines for government.